THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1897.

LOCAL NEWS.

Attend to Poverty Bawl next Saturday evening.

Mrs. Rosa Glenn and child left this morning for Oklahoma to visit Mrs. Glenn's parents.

Joe Hollander, who has been blacksmithing at Geronimo, returned to Globe on Monday to stay.

Fletcher F. Childers and Mrs. Emma Williams were married on Tuesday evening, June 15, by Rev. L. L. Rogers.

W. W. Brookner, general manager of the Old Dominion Commercial company, left this morning for Los Angeles to spend the summer on the coast with his family.

Harry Nash left this morning for Payson to spend the remainder of the summer. He will probably teach a term of school in the Rim Rock district, where he taught before and gave excellent satisfaction.

Texas fever has broken out in Globe. It is a type of the disease confined to bipeds of the genus homo, and the early symptoms are very pleasant, the patient indulging in dreams of suddenly acquired wealth.

D. C. Grath informs us that an item in last week's SILVER BELT in regard to trouble between Ed Herbert and himself did him an injustice; that he is a peaceable man, but in this instance was forced to resent an insult.

Murray Innes, D. M. Gerard and Fred Battershall left on Monday for the coal fields to inspect some mining claims held by W. B. Gerard, president of the Lost Gulch Mining company. They will also visit Morenci before returning to Globe.

F. W. Westmeyer writes that he is very comfortably quartered at Hot Springs, Arkansas. He had not taken enough baths to make any appreciable change in his condition, but his physician is sanguine that a full course of baths will restore him completely.

Court adjourned at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Rouse leaves tomorrow for Solomouville to hold a special term of court there next Monday, his special business being to pass sentence upon George Cluff, late Probate Judge of Graham county, convicted of forgery in having raised a school warrant.

The murder case against Foo Pete, a Chinaman, which was expected to be of great interest, as the construction of the homicide law enacted by the Nineteenth legislature was to have been raised, was continued for the term, as no interpreter could be found except one belonging to the Chinese company opposed to the company to which the defendant belongs.

In the case of the territory against Susie Gill, charged with shooting Geo. L. Murphy, none of the several witnesses present when the assault was committed appeared to know anything about the shooting, and one witness, who lay upon a bed within a few feet from Murphy when he was shot, testified that he did not even hear the report of the pistol. It is a remarkable case of suspended mental faculties upon the part of the witnesses, including the victim himself. Judge Rouse instructed the jury to return a verdict of acquittal without leaving the jury box.

N. L. Amster and John D. Boyd left last Sunday for Payson to make an examination of the Excursion group of mines, and to start work on the property which has been bonded to the North American Exploration Co., which Mr. Amster represents. Mr. Boyd at one time was superintendent of the Excursion group, and is probably more familiar with the property than any other man. Mr. Boyd is an expert of long experience in gold mining and his opinion is therefore valuable. A large amount of development has been done on the group, and the work encouraged the belief in the existence of a large mine. Messrs. Amster and Boyd will be absent a couple of weeks.

Wm. Garland, president, and E. A. Butler, vice-president of the Globe Valley, Globe & Northern railroad, arrived in Globe last Friday evening and remained until Sunday afternoon. Mr. Garland's visit had been looked forward to with considerable interest, as it was generally supposed he would announce definitely when work on the extension of the railroad from Geronimo to Globe would begin. Further than the statement that the company expected to begin construction in sixty days and complete the road within six months thereafter, Mr. Garland proffered no information. A prerequisite to the commencement of construction work on the reservation is the payment of $10,000 indemnity to the Indians, and after payment has been tendered several weeks must elapse before the permit to cross the reservation can be issued from Washington. In the meantime it is hoped that an agreement between Mr. Garland and the Old Dominion Copper company will be reached that will enable the copper company to resume mining.

H. C. Hitchcock's soda fountain has resumed business at the old stand. It is now open and happy.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Wm. M. Brown Killed in the Shaft of the Old Dominion Copper Co.

A distressing accident happened in the shaft of the Globe copper mine Tuesday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock, resulting in the instant death of William M. Brown, a machinist's helper. W. M. Hostetter, machinist, and the deceased were at work changing the pipe in the north compartment of the shaft above the tenth station. The pipe is in 9-foot sections and the men had taken out a section above the pump. Brown was sitting on a timber nine feet above the top of the Cameron pump, and preparing to descend when a piece of iron pipe, called a nipple, 18 inches long, 4 inches in diameter, and having a heavy flange at one end, falling from a height of 80 feet, struck him on top of the head and carried him down the shaft.

His body lodged on top of the pump, near where Hostetter was standing. Hostetter jumped forward and raised Brown's head, and finding the body limp and apparently lifeless, he signalled for assistance and the cage was lowered and Brown's body raised to the surface. Dr. John S. Collins was summoned from town and responded promptly, but it was evident from the first that Brown was dead and he must have been instantly killed, as the skull was crushed in.

Acting Coroner Harry Temple held an inquest over the body before it was removed to town, and from the testimony adduced it would appear that there is no one to blame for the deplorable accident unless it was the victim himself. About 90 feet above the tenth level and 10 feet below the ninth, a horizontal pipe had formerly connected the vertical pipe in the north compartment with a tank in the south compartment of the shaft. This lateral pipe was taken out about two months ago, but the section connecting with the vertical pipe, comprising two nipples and a valve, had not been removed. They were apparently tightly fastened and secure. During Tuesday forenoon Brown was at work in that part of the shaft and it is conjectured that he unscrewed the projecting nipple from the valve and laid it upon one of the cross timbers against the wall of the shaft, and the jarring caused by working on the pipe below dislodged the nipple and caused it to roll into the shaft.

Another theory, not so well supported, is that the jarring of the vertical pipe caused the nipple to work loose from the valve, but this is not probable, as a workman had stood upon the projecting nipple only a few days before, when it was perfectly tight, and had the nipple worked loose it would have required some time, and the threads on the end connecting with the valve would have quickly become rusted if exposed to the air, as the shaft is very damp, and James Richards, who recovered the nipple from the pump, testified that several of the threads were still bright. So the most reasonable supposition is that the nipple had been detached from the valve on the day of the accident and laid upon a timber convenient at hand. The verdict rendered exonerates the company from all blame.

James Richards was sitting upon a timber just below Brown when the accident happened, and the piece of pipe in its descent brushed his hat and arm. He almost immediately went below and recovered the piece of pipe and noted its condition.

Wm. M. Brown was a native of North Carolina, in the 25th year of his age. His home was in San Diego, Cal., where his mother, Mrs. S. J. Ray, and a brother reside. Another brother, Allen Brown, who lives on Salt river, this county, arrived in time for the funeral. Deceased had worked for the Old Dominion Copper company about a year, and was highly thought of by Superintendent Parnall and by his fellow workmen, being industrious and of exemplary habits. He was a man of splendid physique, reputed to be one of the strongest men in the camp. The Old Dominion Copper company defrayed the expenses of the funeral, which took place yesterday afternoon from the M. E. church, the services being conducted by Rev. L. L. Rogers. In the presence of a large assemblage of citizens. It was indeed a sorrowful occasion, and there were very many expressions of regret and sympathy for the bereaved mother, who idolized her boy, ruthlessly separated from her by death.

A TEXAS MINING EXCITEMENT.

A Copper Field Acquired by Residents of Globe.

Dr. B. G. Fox's mysterious disappearance some three or four weeks ago was explained last Saturday by the receipt of a telegram from him, indited at some point in the interior of Western Texas, and addressed to Dr. T. Shields Collins, stating that the mineral had exceeded expectations, and to come at once, or words to that effect.

Although the utmost secrecy has been observed in relation to the discovery we have succeeded, by employing Tesla's recent discovery of ground telegraphy, in obtaining fairly reliable information, although the violent vibrations caused by the excitement incident to the receipt of Dr. Fox's telegram threatened serious injury to the tympanum of our right ear when held close to the ground.

Dr. Collins left on Monday morning's stage in the direction of the staked plains, and a few hours later J. H. Thompson, who had been detained on court business, followed post haste on horseback, expecting to overtake the doctor at Geronimo, they to proceed together to the scene of the reputed fabulous discovery.

It appears that G. W. Magrout, a brother-in-law of M. V. Garlinghouse, who came to Globe last year, upon learning the value of copper carbonates, said he knew where there was a mountain of that sort of truck. He produced a specimen which he was told went 40 per cent in copper, and Magrout became so firmly imbued with the idea that he had a fortune within his grasp that he hurried back to Texas to the place where years before, when a soldier, he had seen quantities of copper carbonates of the value of which he was not then aware. The locality being in a cattle country, 60 miles from a railroad, unfrequented by mining men, Magrout found the land undisturbed as he had left it, and having collected a small boxful of specimens he shipped them to the late Louis Sultan.

The box was not immediately opened upon its receipt, in fact it had been forgotten until Magrout returned to Globe and asked Mr. Sultan what he thought of the specimens. The box was then opened and found to contain nuggets very rich in copper. Mr. Sultan's death, soon afterward, stopped negotiations, which were resumed a month or so ago, and the upshot was that Dr. Fox was sent to look at the property, and upon his report an option has been secured upon several parcels of land owned by the state and private individuals, reported to comprise six sections. The price of the land is said to be $15,000, of which $1000 has been paid.

As a mining proposition it presents some novel features. It is virgin ground and so far as known no ledge has been discovered; not even a pick has been struck in the ground with the view of prospecting. A river intersects the land, exposing banks of blue clay, assaying well in copper, and in which nuggets of copper are imbedded. The same kind of nuggets are found on the surface, exposed by erosion. There are a dozen or more persons interested in the speculation, and there is said to be "millions in it." It is believed to be a concentrating proposition, but until reported upon by a competent expert, nothing more positive can be said about it.

CONSOLIDATED NATIONAL BANK.

The very excellent showing made by the Consolidated National Bank, of Tucson, is not only creditable to the management of that institution, reflecting the confidence reposed in it by the business public, but it indicates, as well, a gratifying degree of prosperity and growth of business throughout Southern Arizona. The Consolidated National Bank is receiving liberal patronage from all over Southern Arizona, from Globe to the Mexican line, and evidence of its stability is the fact that its deposits are $90,000 and cash resources $100,000 more than any other bank in Arizona.

A comparative statement of the condition of the five national banks in the territory of Arizona has been compiled from reports made to the comptroller of the currency, May 14, 1897, showing deposits, loans, securities and cash resources, and which is here appended:

DEPOSITS.
Consolidated Nat'l Bank, Tucson	$25,251 52

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

WESTMINSTER, Cal., March 21, 1894.—Some time ago, on awakening one morning, I found that I had rheumatism in my knee so badly that, as I remarked to my wife, it would be impossible for me to attend to business that day. Remembering that I had some of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in my store I sent for a bottle and rubbed the afflicted parts thoroughly with it according to directions, and within an hour I was completely relieved. One application had done the business. It is the best liniment on the market, and I sell it under a positive guarantee. R. T. HARRIS. For sale by H. C. Hitchcock, druggist.

FACTS WORTH CONSIDERING.

It is the duty of every man who has a family, a mother or sister dependent upon him to make some provision for their future support and comfort in the event of his being taken from them. Life's tenure is uncertain at best; even to the young and the most robust among us death may come suddenly, startling proof of which we have witnessed in Globe the present week.

Insurance offers the most feasible plan to protect those we love against the contingency of our death, but rates in reliable life companies are as a rule high and the payment of policies often uncertain and subject to annoying delays. That this belief prevails widely and is well founded is shown by the rapid growth of beneficiary orders in recent years, some of which have proved wonderfully successful and have passed beyond the experimental stage.

Among the several societies of this class in the United States, the Ancient Order of United Workmen stands pre-eminent. The order had a membership on April 1, 1897, of 368,623, showing a gain for the preceding twelve months of 10,139. Since the order was founded it has paid out to the beneficiary fund up to the above date a total of $75,104,153.71, and it is a fact worthy of note that the payment of a beneficiary certificate of a deceased member in good standing in the order was never contested, no matter what the cause of death, suicide even not invalidating the claim.

The amount of the benefit is $2,000 and the cost of carrying it in the Colorado jurisdiction (comprising Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona, the best jurisdiction in the United States) is about $18 per annum, paid in monthly installments of $1 or $2, according to the assessments levied. In addition to the assessments there are monthly lodge dues, in the Globe Lodge 75 cents per month.

Globe Lodge No. 15, was organized a little more than a year ago and now has upwards of 60 members in good standing. New members are coming in rapidly and as an additional inducement to eligible men to join, the lodge has reduced the initiation fee, for a brief period only.

Having used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and found it to be a first class article, I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends. J. V. FOSTER, Westport, Cal. For sale by H. C. Hitchcock, druggist.

The programme of the Poverty Bawl, an entertainment to be given by Alexander Relief Corps on Saturday evening, June 19, at Parker's hall, has created much interest and favorable comment. It will be a novel affair and the fact that many of the prominent ladies of Globe are interested in making it a success, gives assurance that it will be highly enjoyable. At many may not recognize the war.

"bawl" as indicating a dance, we will state that dancing will be one of the chief features of the entertainment, and for which the very best music has been engaged.
